SUPPORTED BY

KULeuven and the seniors
of KULeuven

WHAT DID YOU DO?

We were organising an exhibition in the KU Leuven where student artists would expose their works alongside senior artists. By doing that, we wanted to create a synergy and an interaction between the two different generations.

WHAT DID YOU ACHIEVE?

Sadly, our event was planned for October 2020. Because we worked with a corona risk group, it was quickly decided that our exposition would be cancelled. We did already manage to recruit quite a few student artists and had a clear plan of the further course. We had already arranged a meet-up between the senior artists and the student artists and we were about to assemble our exposition at the jubileumzaal in Leuven.

FUN FACT

Even though our meetings with the seniors of the KULeuven were early in the morning, we were always greeted with a hot cup of coffee and some cookies.
